Think about it:

Each flock of Great Northern Geese is its own unique community. Each flock finds its own rhythm. The pulsating sound of the great wings beating together excites and energizes the entire formation, replenishing their courage and stamina. The geese honk from behind to encourage those up front to keep up their speed.

Lesson: We need to make sure our honking from behind is energizing and encouraging, and not something else.

Great Northern Geese, Lesson III
